

HUMAN RIGHTS, GENDER AND CORRUPTION - LINKAGES, GOOD PRACTICES, POTENTIAL AND LIMITATIONS

WEDNESDAY, 18 DECEMBER 2019, 13:00 - 14:00, CR1

Moderator: Mr. Richard Lapper, OHCHR

Speakers:

H.E. Mr. Azzeddine Farhane, Ambassador, Permanent Representative of the Kingdom of Morocco to the International Organizations in Vienna: The contribution of the Kingdom of Morocco for introducing corruption on the agenda of the Human Rights Council

Ms. Jennifer Sarvary Bradford, UNODC: How can the implementation of the UNCAC support human rights and what are the main linkages between UNCAC and international human rights law?

Mr. Charles Ayamdoo, Commission on Human Rights and Administrative Justice (CHRAJ), Ghana: The experience of the CHRAJ in increasing awareness of the negative impact of corruption on human rights and promoting gender equality

H.E. Mr. Stefan Estermann, Switzerland: The potential of mainstreaming the anti-corruption and human rights agendas

Ms. Lazarie Eckeloo, Centre for Civil and Political Rights: Launch of a Practitioners' Guide on Corruption and Human Rights

Mr. Juan Pablo Bohoslavsky, UN Independent Expert on Debt and Human Rights: Illicit Financial Flows and Human Rights

To promote peaceful and inclusive societies, provide access to justice for all, and build effective, accountable and inclusive institutions at all levels

