The Domestic Institutionalisation of Human Rights

Edited by Stéphanie Lagoutte, Sébastien Lorion and Steven L. B. Jensen

This book explores recent developments pointing towards a ‘domestic institutionalisation of human rights’, composed of converging international trends prescribing the setting-up of domestic institutions, and the need for a national human rights systems approach. Building on new compliance theories, innovative arrangements have resolutely appeared around the turn of the Millennium and some are now legally enshrined in human rights treaties. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Nordic Journal of Human Rights.
